HOAGLAND'S
NEW PATENT SHAFT COPLING!
W. B. COOPER

HAS PURCHASED THE RIGHT FOR THIS County of the above Patent and will hereafter use it in the construction of all the Vehicles manufactured at his extensive

Carriage Factory,
Corner of Second and Morrison Streets.
He respectfully refers to the following
CARD

Having examined the New Patent Shaft Coupling, invented by H. B. Hoagland, we take pleasure in informing the public that in our opinion it is the safest and best method of connecting shafts or tongues to all vehicles that has ever been used.

It fastens without bolt or screw and is therefore easily and speedily separated. It [illegible] on Gutta Percha so as to be entirely free from the rattling sound which so often disturbs restless horses. It is easily changed so that the shafts or tongue may be detached in an instant, and is convenient, safe and secure.

It is easy to change to this style of coupling any buggy or other vehicle now in use, and with small expense. We have come to the conclusion to use this new invention ourselves and recommend its use in all cases. We consider it far superior to the Brewster Patent heretofore considered the best use.

American Shipping

BOSTON Oct 19.—The Congressional Committee inquiring into the cause of the decline of American shipping held a session to-day. A number of leading merchants and ship builders were present.

The Cuban Privateer

WILMINGTON Oct 19.—The Cuba was libeled to-day. The U S Marshal boarded her and demanded a surrender of the ship into his hands. Commodore Higgins declined to surrender except to an officer of the United States Navy under direct orders from the President. After some delay Lieut Commander Pierson of the gunboat Frolic went aboard the Cuba and demanded the surrender of the vessel showing an order direct from the President for the Cuba to be turned over to him. Commodore Higgins then surrendered his sword and vessel to Commodore Pierson and himself as prisoner of war to the Navy of the United States. The Cuban flag was then hauled down and the entire crew sent ashore. The affair in some of its aspects is regarded here as an outrage, especially the turning loose in this city of a hundred sailors and marines entirely beyond restraint or control of the officers. In anticipation of trouble, a large special police force has been put on duty.

Alabama Affairs

WASHINGTON, Oct 19.—The Montgomery Journal has information from an authentic source that complete arrangements have been made for paying all the interest of the State debt falling due on the 1st of November. The requisite amount has been sent from the State Treasury to New York, where the interest is payable. The financial condition of the State is reported very healthful.

The Capital Convention.

Canada Scared Again

TORONTO Oct 19.—The gunboat Prince Alfred stationed at Goodrich has been placed in readiness for active service. Orders are received directing Toronto field battery to proceed immediately to Goodrich and man the Prince Alfred. It is reported the Fenians have chartered and equipped a gunboat carrying the sunburst, to do mischief to the towns on the upper lakes. Hence this movement of the Canadian authorities.

A Corrupt Judge—All About Father Hyacinthe—New York News

NEW YORK, Oct 19.—Judge McInerney of Newark, was yesterday found guilty of practicing extortion and black mail upon citizens who had cases before his court and remanded for sentence.

The Tribune learned yesterday from Father Hyacinthe that he desires it understood that he still is a Roman Catholic. He says he has never been ultramontane and is not now and never will be, but he does that there is any reason for indentifying ultramontanism with Catholicism. He indulges the firm hope that the Council will not as a community anticipate and consolidate the ultramontane theories and constitute them the creed of the Church, but on the contrary will leave the door wide open for those who like himself, have been throughout life the devoted champions of a more liberal construction of Catholic doctrines and who in particular have defended the entire harmony between the Christian religion and the great achievement of the civilization of the nineteenth century. The strong basis of his religious belief on which he dwells with particular emphasis is the belief in the Divinity of Christ, in the inspiration of scriptures and the excellence of Christian civilization of the nineteenth century. Father Hyacinthe has not a fixed programme while here. He has come to see and study the country. After being here a few weeks or months he may go to the Ecumenical Council or may not. He desires rest.

A live stock train on the Erie road fell through Hackensack bridge to-day. No lives lost but much property destroyed.

A call has been issued inviting State organizations in behalf of woman's suffrage to be represented in a delegate convention at Cleveland, Ohio, November 24th, the delegates not to exceed the number of Congressional delegations from each State respectively. The call is signed by W Lloyd Garrison, Lydia Maria Child, Julia Ward Howe, Abbey Kelly, George William Curtis, Lydia Mott, Henry Ward Beecher, Gerrit Smith, Lucy Stone, Antoinette Brown, G W Julia [illegible] A Livermore, Grace Greenwood, S A Willey and 100 others representing nearly every State.

A deputation of Boston clergymen will wait on Father Hyacinthe to morrow for the purpose of tendering a reception there. The clergy of New York will take no action until the deputation from Boston have ascertained his intentions. Many of them favor expressing their sympathies on the ground that he represents in himself the great principles of a clergy at liberty. They will call attention to his attendants as [illegible] great Catholic priest and his opposition to the Ecumenical Council next Sunday in the various churches. It is said Father Hecker of the Paulist Fathers will have an interview with Father Hyacinthe to-morrow and will use his priestly office to have him reconciled [illegible] reform [illegible] in the church.

[illegible] thousand [illegible] engaged in the Buffalo shops resumed work to-day. The strike is [illegible] over.

The [illegible] gold [illegible] in [illegible] sales [illegible]

A meeting of [illegible] dealers will be held [illegible] for the purpose of [illegible] with the Chicago [illegible] Association [illegible] the general [illegible]

At the [illegible] an Assembly [illegible] Rev Dr [illegible] was [illegible] Moderator for the ensuing year.

The strike [illegible] of the Erie railroad at Jersey city continues. Several [illegible] have gone to work. The majority hold out. A dispatch from the Susquehannah workshops states that the men have gone to work.

The retiring officers of the [illegible] Board at a morning made farewell speeches in which [illegible] was severely handled.

The Ohio Election

COLUMBUS Oct 19. County returns have been [illegible] at the Republican headquarters [illegible] A few [illegible] official [illegible] the [illegible] Hayes has 4,999 [illegible] majority [illegible] House three Republican majority.

New York Oct [illegible]. The World's Washington special says [illegible] denies [illegible] any correspondence [illegible] relative to [illegible] He does not remember having ever held any correspondence with [illegible] on the subject. Notwithstanding the President's statement, it is said the [illegible] was true and that he mingled with prominent government officials and he was accompanied by Count Touche de Cavell, a member of the French House of Deputies, who left on Saturday for France. The whole thing is mysterious. While it may be [illegible] correspondence has taken place between the President and Figueras, there is the best reason to believe there is more [illegible]

From Cuba

HAVANA Oct 19. The Diario de la Marina publishes important documents intercepted in their passage through the Island, which if true prove that the Republican rising in Spain is the work of Cuban insurgents.

An additional detachment of troops was sent to the seat of war to-day.

Twenty rebels presented themselves before the authorities of Cien Fuegos and asked for pardon.

Fire at Providence.

PROVIDENCE Oct 20.—A fire this evening nearly destroyed an old wooden building on Weybosset street owned by Wm Grosvenor and occupied by Charles F Phillips as a restaurant and fruit store, Reynolds & Sawberry as a tobacco store, Wm Arnold as a restaurant and various offices. The loss is perhaps $15,000, on which there is partial insurance.

Canada News

NEW YORK Oct 20.—The Herald's special from Toronto says all the Toronto field battery have been engaged in packing up their necessaries for a start. If required they can be on the road fully equipped, guns etc in two hours. Fifty kegs of powder have been sent by express to Goodrich. All the guns stored at Kingston at the time of the last Fenian raid are now being distributed. The gunboats Rescue and Prince Alfred are newly armed and equipped and ready for sea. The former is at Kingston on the St. Lawrence, the latter at Goodrich on Lake Huron under orders to sail to-morrow. The troops here are notified to be in readiness and more can be notified in twenty four hours.

New Orleans Dispatch

NEW YORK Oct. 20.—A special from New Orleans says the New Orleans Jackson and Great Northern railroad brought to that city an unusually large passenger train, seven cars each packed to its utmost. There were 280 through passengers. One hundred and sixty of these are hardy looking sons of Ohio and Western Virginia and represented to have been employed at $60 per month, expenses paid as laborers to save the sugar crop on Teche, but they look much like recruits for some fillibustering expedition.

Cuban Filibusters

NEW YORK Oct 20.—Information has been received in this city to the effect that the Lillian which succeeded in leaving Cedar Keys, Florida, in safety put in at Key West. It is said a quarrel between Gravoria and Orlato has taken place, and all the operations in which the Lillian was concerned are now indefinitely abandoned. The opinion existing among the Cubans here is that the Lillian returned simply on account of the presence of the Spanish cruisers, as it was impossible to land on the shores of Cuba.

Spain Out of Money

NEW YORK Oct 19.—The Tribune learns by private advices from Madrid that the Captain General of Cuba lately sent an urgent demand for $2,000,000 but was informed that the Spanish Treasury is empty and that hereafter he must raise in Cuba itself the money required for military and political purposes; that Spain will furnish troops but Cuba must supply cash.

General Telegrams.

NEW YORK Oct. 19. Letters from Peabody state that he had a very pleasant voyage to England and that his health is about the same as when he left the United States.

LOUISVILLE Oct 19. The Convention of the American Christian Missionary Society met here to-day. The attendance is very large.

The corner stone of the new Masonic Widows and Orphans Home was laid to-day with imposing ceremonies.

OIL CITY, Pa Oct 19. Dr Labough, a resident of Venango City, was this morning found dead at the approach to the river bridge on the Oil City side. It is supposed he fell from the walk which is six feet above the ground, striking his head against a stone and was killed. He leaves a family.

LOUISVILLE Oct 21. Extensive preparations are being made for a reunion of the Army of the Tennessee at Louisville November 17th and 18th. SATURDAY MORNING OCTOBER 23 1869

A Council of Sangrados

It appears that since the defeat of Pendleton the Democratic press of the Eastern States has been handling him very roughly and he retorts by calling for a convention of Democrats of the Mississippi valley to take action on the political situation. In other words the skill of the great Democrat quacksalver Dr Pendleton is exhausted and he demands a consultation of physicians on the moribund condition of the party. The question is shall Dr Pendleton's mode of treatment by depletion be continued or shall it be abandoned and the patient placed under the generous care of the pursy and plethoric Eastern doctors? This is the matter to be determined. Dr Pendleton calls for a council of his professional friends in the West, the disciples of his school and if they agree that the Pendletonian treatment is the thing, the bleeding and cupping and leeching and the administering of greenback nostrums will go on but if the consultation determines otherwise the Eastern doctors will take the patient and try, by the use of golden elixirs and a generous diet, to get him up again. Now we predict that the college of Western doctors will refuse to give the patient up. They are profound believers in the mysteries of their school, and if their practice kills, why so much worse for the patient — the truths of science must be maintained. This principle was the secret of the celebrated Dr Sangrado's wonderful practice and the Western doctors of the Pendleton school no doubt have it from him. It is to be expected that they will continue to bid defiance to the physicians of the East who are clamoring to get hold of the "sick man." This evidently, is what Pendleton expects. To drop metaphors, he desires a convention of Western Democrats to reaffirm repudiation principles and to administer a rebuke to the bondholding, gold-paying section of the party in the Eastern States, who are trying to shake off the Pendleton policy and pledge the Democratic party to a maintenance of the national faith and payment of the debt in gold. Since the defeat of Pendleton the Eastern section of the party has boldly revolted against the leadership of the Western or repudiation wing, and Pendleton's call for a convention of Democrats of Mississippi valley clearly indicates a purpose to return blow for blow. The party is now completely divided on the financial question, and it remains to be seen whether the Western Democrats will yield, as it is certain since the defeat of Pendleton that the Eastern Democrats will not.

Mr Seward's Dream of Empire

It is evident that Mr Seward partakes largely of that idea which enthusiastic Americans call manifest destiny. There are few of our younger men who have succeeded to the control of national affairs, who exhibit the same faith and enthusiasm in this regard which are seen in the old statesman. The Philadelphia Press well observes that his extended tour over the distant portions of the Continent of North America is worthy of imitation and of honorable mention. He is true to his scheme of empire. Believing that it is our destiny to occupy the whole continent, he toiled to that end, with extraordinary energy, under the administrations of Lincoln and Johnson. Alaska was acquired alone through his exertions. This completes the Northwest angle of the continent. The purchase of the Danish colony of St, Thomas was projected by him, and, though not consummated, is certain to be ratified in the coming session of Congress. Mexico is at last a well organized free government. All that is necessary to give us the whole area between the sixteenth degree of north latitude and the Arctic ocean is the conquest by peaceable example of British America (3,050,398 square miles), Danish America (394,000 square miles), Central America (203,551 square miles), the Swedish colony of Bartholomew, with a population of 18,000, the Dutch colonies of Curacoa, St. Eustatius, and St Martin, with a population in 1853 of 90,581, of which, up to 1857, three-fourths were slaves, and the Spanish colonies of Cuba and Porto Rico. A glance at these countries, in the light of passing events, will show that the idea of placing them under republican, if not exclusive American control, is by no means impracticable. That the venerable statesman cherishes this idea is best proved by his extended journeys to the waters of Sitka and the neighborhood of Vancouver Island, and now to the republic of Mexico. Mr Seward is too old to indulge any Presidential aspirations, even if the hopes of the nation were not otherwise directed. He was born on the 16th of May, 1801, and is therefore fairly out of the hats. What better ambition could he indulge than that of aiding to realize his darling scheme of republican empire over the continent of North America?

Southern Pacific Railroad

The Louisville Commercial Convention declared in favor of a Southern Pacific railroad on what is known as Fremont's route, and it is certain that powerful combinations are forming to push that road through.

Gen Fremont is himself in Europe, on business connected with the enterprise, and a Paris paper of the 20th September publishes a letter written by him, in which he states that large orders have been given in France for rails, locomotives and other material, and that a vessel has already been dispatched with the first cargo of rails. These materials are designed for the California section of the road, where work is now in progress. General Fremont makes the following additional statements:

> That the Company owns in addition to the lands mortgaged, the following: A—1 023 acres at the port of Norfolk on the Atlantic side. B—9 000 acres at the port of San Diego on the Pacific side. C—800,000 acres in Texas independently, we repeat, of the lands placed under mortgage.
> That the Company have acquired by purchase or by the consolidation of other lines and the following concessions which correspond with the principal line, and shall henceforth form an integral part namely: A—The concession of San Diego and Gila line in California 150 miles. B—The concession of the Arizona line about 500 miles long. C—The Memphis and Little Rock line the greater part of which is in operation.
>
> That the whole of these properties gives to the Company's bondholders a general security forming in some part the complement of the guarantees in which they are specially interested.

Thus the Southern Pacific railroad is already in progress and the Northern Pacific is quite sure to make a beginning next year.

Mississippi

We have heretofore alluded to the political situation in Mississippi, where the Democrats are supporting a "carpet-bagger" for Governor and a "nigger" for Secretary of State. A copy of the Vicksburg Republican of October 2d has fallen into our hands, by which we see that the Republicans are making every [illegible] for brother-in-law Dent. The true Republican ticket is composed of the names of men who are all old citizens of Mississippi. The Vicksburg paper calls it the [illegible] ticket and speaks of the opposition as the carpet bag brother-in-law party. Dent claims that he resides in Coahoma county but the Republican publishes a statement from the clerk of that county to the effect that his name has never appeared on the tax rolls either as a landholder or a poll tax payer and as it is established that he don't live there the Republican is forced to ask its Democratic friends in all kindness where the h—l he does live. It remarks that it is the fortunate for Texas that her election takes place on the same day as ours, or the poor brother in law would be over there trying to be Governor. Dent is trying to make a canvass but his opponents turn the carpet-bag argument against him with great force and he is having uphill work of it. It is believed that he will succeed only in getting the votes of the [illegible] rebel element while the Republicans will carry the votes of all the moderate, fair minded whites who are disposed to accept reconstruction in good faith with nearly the whole of the colored vote besides.

Fun and Frolic in Camp

AN INCIDENT OF THE NORTHERN PACIFIC RAILROAD EXPLORATION

Carleton of the Boston Journal describes an incident of the Northern Pacific Railroad exploration in Northern Minnesota as follows:

The shadows of night are falling and though the sun has shone through a cloudless sky the evening air is chilly. We will warm it by kindling a grand bivouac fire where after supper we will sit in solemn council or crack jokes, or tell stories, as the whim of the hour shall lead us.

There was a time when the gray beards of our party were youngsters and played "horse" with a wooden bit between the teeth and reins handled by a white-haired school mate. How we trotted, cantered, reared, pranced, butted, backed, and then rushed furiously on making the little old hand cart rattle over the stones! It was long ago, but we have not forgotten it, and to-night we will be boys once more.

Yonder by the roadside lies a fallen oak, a monarch of the forest broken down by the wind—by the same tempest that levelled our tents. It shall blaze to night. We will sit in its cheerful light. It would be ignoble to hack it to pieces and bring it into camp an armful at a time, we will drag it bodily lop off the limbs and pile them high upon the trunk, touch a match to the withered leaves and warm the chilly air.

"All hands to the harness." It is a royal team. How could it be otherwise with the ex Governor of the Green Mountain State—he who directed the government of that noble Commonwealth during the war—for leader, matched with our judge, who for sixteen years honored the judiciary of Maine, with three members of Congress, past and present, a doctor of divinity, and an M D,—all in harness! We have a strong cart rope of the best Manilla hemp, which has served us many a turn in pulling our wagons through the sloughs of the prairies, which is brought once more into service. A few strokes of the axe provide us with levers which serve for yokes. We pair off two by two, and take our places in the team.

"Are you all ready? Now for it." It is the voice of our leader.

"Gee up? Whoa! Whoa! Hip Hurrah! Now she goes!"

We shout and sing, and feel an ecstatic thrill running all over us, from the tips of our fingers down into our boots—an old time pleasure, such as we used to experience when we were white haired urchins, and played "horse" on half holidays.

What a deal of power there is in a yell! The teamster screams to his horses, the plough boy makes himself hoarse by shouting to his oxen, the fireman feels that he is doing good service when he goes tearing down the street yelling with all his might. He never would put out the fire if he couldn't yell. There is wonderful power in a scream, a shout, a hurrah. A hurrah elected General Harrison President of the United States, and it has won many a political battle-field. A hurrah starts the old oak from its bed. See the Executive as he sets his compact shoulders to the work, making the lever bend before him! Notice the tall form of the judge bowing in the traces. If the rope does not break the log is bound to come.

The two are good at pulling. They have shown their power by pulling one of the greatest enterprises of modern times through a quagmire and over obstacles that would have discouraged men of weaker nerve. The public never will know of the hard work performed by them in starting the Northern Pacific Railroad, how they have dragged it up from obscurity, from obloquy against opposition and prejudice. The time will come when the public will look upon the enterprise in its true light. When the road is opened from Lake Superior westward, when the traveller finds on every hand a country of surpassing richness, when he finds a climate in the Northwest as mild as that of Pennsylvania, when he sees the numberless attractions and exhaustless resources of the land, then, and not until then, will the labors of Gov Smith and his associates in carrying on this work be appreciated.

To-night they enter with all zest of youth into the project of building a camp fire and tug at the rope with all the enthusiasm of boyhood.

It is a strong team. Our doctor of divinity, whether in the pulpit or harnessed to a cart rope on the prairie, pulls with a "forty parson power," to use the simile of Sidney Smith. How resolutely our robust M D sets his broad shoulders against the yoke! Whether he has hold of a gnarled oak on the prairie or the stump of a molar in the mouth of a pretty young lady, it is certain that he will master it.

Space is wanting to enumerate all the good qualities of each member of the team—or to notice the unheard-of performances of others—how a member of Congress "made believe pull," as we used to say in our boyhood, and complacently smoked his pipe the while; how your correspondent tipped a wink at the smoker, seized hold of a lever, shouted and yelled, as if laying out all his strength and pulled—about two pounds! How at length we dragged it in amid the hurrahs of the teamsters, wiped the sweat from our brows and then through the evening sat in a circle round the blazing log and made the air ring with our jokes and merry laughter. So we rubbed out the growing wrinkles, smoothed the lines of care, and turned back the shadow creeping up the dial.

A NEW ROUTE TO THE WEST.—From the New York Tribune October 1st we take the following:

It is not generally known to the public that a new link in the chain of railways connecting New York with the West is nearly completed and that when it is opened the distance between this city and Chicago by railroad will be ninety five miles less than it is now by the New York Central Railroad, seventy seven miles less than by the Erie and a hundred and one miles less than by the Camden and Amboy and Philadelphia and Erie Road. This link is the Danville, Hazleton and Wilkesbarre Railroad, extending from Hazleton to Sunbury, Pa, a distance of fifty one miles, connecting at the former place with the Lehigh Valley Railroad to Easton and New York and at Sunbury with the Philadelphia and Erie and the Northern Central Road leading down the Susquehannah river to the seaboard at Baltimore. Among the advantages claimed for this new road are that it will develop about eighteen miles of coal lands along Black Creek and Black Mountain and that it will furnish the shortest route to the oil regions and bituminous coal fields of the Philadelphia and Erie Railroad. The grading and bridging on this road have already been completed and a large portion of the track is already laid, the company has purchased some of its rolling stock and a portion of the road will be open for traffic within ten days or two weeks.

"Married on Wednesday last after a vast amount of trials and tribulations, etc.," is an announcement in a Lafayette (Ind) paper.

Spain and the United States

CHICAGO, Oct 20.—A Washington special says that documents have been received from Spain [illegible] the story of Sickles's negotiations and the withdrawal of his note tendering the good offices of our government. The first interview occurred at Madrid in July when Sickles communicated verbally a proposition looking towards the settlement with Cubans on the basis of their purchase of the public works and the abolition of slavery. Early in August a second interview took place at which Silveta, the Spanish Minister of State, after expressing his pleasure at the tender of good offices on the part of the United States verbally communicated a counter proposition that before that prior to a formal discussion of the matter the Cubans must lay down their arms. About the first of September Sickles having been instructed to press a formal note upon the proposed terms of settlement drafted one setting forth what had taken place and what the formal interview was. He then proceeded to state in a style better fitted for a stump speech than a diplomatic communication that the United States sympathizes very strongly with Cuba, that the war was conducted by Spain in a cruel manner and the United States could no longer restrain the people. He argued that Spain would lose notwithstanding if she gave up Cuba, instancing by the way of proof the cases of Louisiana, Florida and Alabama. He followed this by an empty threat of recognition of belligerency in case Spain would not accede to the views of the United States. Pending these latter proceedings Prim and Silveta went to Paris and immediately the report gained credence that the French Emperor was to support Spain. By the middle of September Sickles becoming uneasy on account of this and similar reports called on Becorla, Minister of the colonies and acting Secretary in Silveta's absence, and had an informal conversation upon rumors and the situation in which Becorla disclaimed any attempt on the part of Spain to seek aid from France or any other European power. He expressed the opinion that if the Cubans would lay down their arms Spain would grant them proper legal representatives in the Cortes, amnesty and equal distribution of offices between Spanish residents on the Island and the Cubans, and take measures for the abolition of slavery. He also expressed an opinion that the note drafted by Sickles should not be presented. The history of this part of the transaction has already been given.

WASHINGTON, Oct 21.—The receipts from Customs thus far this month have not been so large as for a corresponding time last month. National Capital Convention

ST LOUIS, Oct 21.—The Capital Convention adopted a preamble, reciting the facts existing at the time of locating the seat of Government at Washington and the changes which have occurred since. It was resolved that it was absurd to suppose that the handful of inhabitants in 1798 passed or desired to execute authority to fix the site of the national capital forever on the banks of the Potomac; that the people have endured the present ill located capital three quarters of a century, patiently waiting for the vast territory of the Union to be peopled and organized into States, and until the centre of population, area and wealth could be determined when a permanent location for the seat of Government could be selected, that the time has come when all sectional issues are settled and all dangerous domestic variances are disposed of. The resolutions declare the proper place for the capital to be the Mississippi valley, as the seat of empire of the continent. They recite its advantages at some length. The resolutions conclude as follows:

Resolved, That while advocating the removal of the seat of Government to the Mississippi valley we will not serve the interests of any particular locality, but urge Congress to appoint a Commission for the purpose of selecting a convenient site for the national capital in the great valley of the Mississippi.

Resolved, That the removal of the national capital being only a question of time we emphatically oppose and condemn all expenditures of money for the enlargement of the old Government buildings and the erection of new ones at the present seat of national Government as a useless and wanton waste of the property of the people.

Local Brevities.—The arrival at Liverpool of the Hei[illegible], freighted with wheat at this city some months ago, has been announced to the agents here.

An attempt was made one or two evenings since to rob the till of Mr. Keller's meat market. The alarm bell of the till brought Mr. Keller in, before the thief had time to effect his purpose.

A considerable force of workmen, was yesterday engaged in throwing up a section of railway embankment, connecting with the new wharf at East Portland.

The fog of yesterday morning was so dense as to make it difficult for the ferry boat to find her landings.

A flag staff was raised yesterday from the clock tower of the Odd Fellows' Hall.

The bark Cambridge from Honolulu brought two hundred tons freight, mostly sugar, coffee and rice.

Fire cisterns at the intersections of North Ninth and C, and [illegible] and Seventh were completed yesterday. They will each hold 15,000 gallons.

The bark Whistler, Capt. Simpson, went to sea on Thursday.

Yesterday was one of the pleasantest days of the season, the temperature averaging 67 degrees.

One case of "drunk" before the Recorder yesterday.

The Moses Taylor, from San Francisco, will be due Sunday evening.

The Geo. S. Wright will be due from Victoria to-night.

Building in this city is going on as brisk as if rain were not expected within the next six months.

The [illegible] seem to be taking a rest. No new case of robbery or burglary reported yesterday.

The flag flying over McCraken, Merrill & Co.'s store [illegible], which excited so much inquiry, was the flag of the Hawaiian Consulate.

The bark Almy with railroad iron will probably arrive this evening.

Religious.—The subjoined items are from the Advocate:

The [illegible] Convention of preachers in the Portland District will be held at Dayton, commencing next Tuesday, at 9 o'clock A. M. A large attendance is expected.

The [illegible] propose to erect a church edifice in [illegible]ville, and have secured a site with that intention.

A fine new organ has been placed in the M. E. Church of Albany, and the whole congregation supplied with new hymn books.

Rev. S. G. Irvin, of the United Presbyterian Church, [illegible] from the east by the last steamer. He will be [illegible] with the Albany College as one of its instructors.

Rev. Wm. Roberts, pastor of the M. E. Church in this city, will preach at 11 o'clock to-morrow morning on the subject of Romanism.

Rev. Joseph Thompson, of the African M. E. Zion Church, gave us a call this week. This Brother came to [illegible] in 1850, and founded in San Francisco the first [illegible] Church in 1851. He is at present pastor of a church [illegible] Island, B. C. He will visit Salem and other points on his Master's business before returning to [illegible].

[illegible] and family, of the Oregon Conference, left on the last steamer for California. We regret [illegible] Belknap's health has been quite feeble. [illegible] and change of climate were deemed necessary to her restoration. They will be absent all winter. The pulpit at Vancouver will be supplied in the meantime by Rev. H. K. Hines and Rev. Clarke Smith.

Oregon and California Railroad.—The Marysville Appeal of [illegible] says: "There arrived yesterday by the California and Oregon Railroad, a train loaded with dump-carts, tools, horses, Chinese, laborers, lumber, etc., and there are other evidences of the early completion of the railroad to Chico, and on toward the Oregon line."

The [illegible] also says: "The California and Oregon R. R. Company are to lay a temporary track to a point [illegible] across the Feather river, on which to run the heavy timbers which are to be used in its construction. The distance is about eight miles, and it is expected to commence operations this week. The local officers of the Company assure us that sixty miles of the road will be completed by the 1st of January. If so, grading must commence without delay. John A. Carroll, who laid the first rail on the Sacramento Valley Railroad, and held the position of Master Mechanic for [illegible], left Sacramento on Tuesday to take the [illegible] on the Oregon Central Road. Carpenters [illegible] at work on Wednesday on the timbers of the bridge to be erected by the California and Oregon Railroad over the Feather river, which, we now learn incidentally, is [illegible] short distance above Judge Bliss' [illegible]. The grading and hauling also arrived [illegible] day, there being twelve car loads of work mules [illegible]. The work seems now fairly inaugurated, [illegible] to believe that trains will reach [illegible] from Chico before the cars from Knights' Landing."

[illegible].—The following resolutions were adopted by Willamette Lodge, No. 15, I. O. G. T. of Oregon City:

Whereas, It has pleased Divine Providence, in His infinite wisdom, to suddenly remove from our midst, by [illegible] 1869, our well beloved brother, No[illegible]; therefore, be it—

Resolved, That by the death of brother Johnson, Willamette Lodge, I. O. G. T. No. 15, is profoundly sensible [illegible] that it has lost a most efficient and worthy [illegible] and the Order a noble, kind and benevolent [illegible].

Resolved, That we will ever cherish the memory of his [illegible], confidently trusting that our loss is his [illegible].

Resolved, That we tender to the bereaved mother, [illegible] and friends of our deceased brother [illegible] irreparable loss our heartfelt condolence [illegible] and affliction.

Resolved, That to give further expression of our deep [illegible] and members of this Lodge wear the [illegible] and that the charter and furniture be draped [illegible] thirty days.

Resolved, That a copy of this preamble and resolutions [illegible] the minutes of the Lodge, a copy with our [illegible] to the mother of our dear brother, [illegible] the Enterprise and Oregonian for [illegible].

[illegible], Descriptive and Historical, by [illegible] near Athens is thus described: [illegible] side of the citadel is a flight of [illegible] the rock, which lead from the Acropolis [illegible] and the city. The Clepsydra, [illegible] clock which exists in the octagonal [illegible] Cyrrhestes, to the north of [illegible]. On the eight faces of this fabric [illegible] figures and names of the eight [illegible] to that quarter of the heavens from [illegible] blow. The building is surmounted by a Triton of bronze, holding out from his [illegible] wand, and revolving on an axis so as to [illegible] over the figure of the wind [illegible] to be blowing at any particular time. [illegible] figures lines are traced on the walls, [illegible] by the shadow cast upon them by the [illegible] to the hour of the day as the [illegible] the quarter of the wind. When the [illegible] recourse is had to the water-clock [illegible] serves both as a vane and a chronometer.

[illegible] the above in explanation of a modernized [illegible] the figure, Triton, etc., on Washington street, west to Seventh.

Grand Lodge of Good Templars.—The Grand Lodge of [illegible] for Oregon and Washington Territory, [illegible] last Tuesday morning and adjourned [illegible]. There were seventy-four [illegible]. The officers elected for the ensuing [illegible] of Portland, G. W. C. T.; G. W. Coun[illegible] of Brownsville; G. W. V. T., Miss [illegible] of Milwaukie; G. W. Secretary, Wm. B. [illegible] Corvallis; G. W. A. Secretary, J. A. Smith, [illegible]; G. W. Marshal, T. A. Smith, Buena Vista; [illegible], Miss Hanscher, Oregon City; G. W. [illegible] Hare, Aurora; G. W. Inside Guard, [illegible] Portland; G. W. Outside Guard, Thos. [illegible]; Past Grand W. C. T., Hugh N. [illegible] Vista, Polk county. Action was taken [illegible] the lodges of Washington Territory [illegible] jurisdiction afterwards with a Grand Lodge of [illegible] for this were received from nine[illegible] lodges. The whole number of lodges in that Territory [illegible] five, with a membership of over fourteen [illegible].

[illegible].—We clip the subjoined items from [illegible]:

[illegible] that the Government Reserve will become [illegible] ground for the cavalry and artillery drill; that [illegible] will be sent here to drill; that Gen. Thomas [illegible] it for that purpose.

[illegible] in favor of Mrs. Fields, one of the parties [illegible] of the Government reserve is being generally [illegible]. Mrs. Fields took her claim at an early day, and [illegible] widow in moderate circumstances, feels very [illegible].

[illegible] day Mr. John Proebstel brought in about [illegible] worth of gold from the diggings on Texas [illegible] alone remains there. Mr. Proebstel was [illegible] and helped him clean up his dirt. The [illegible] coarser and more plentiful as he gets further [illegible]. Texas believes ere long he will find some [illegible].

[illegible].—From our correspondent, Oct. 20th: The bark Cambridge arrived here yesterday, twenty-[illegible] out from the Sandwich Islands; she made the [illegible] river bar in eighteen days. The Okanagan [illegible] up to Portland to-morrow.

The Hellen W. Almy arrived this morning from San Francisco. Among her freight for Portland is a lot of railroad iron for Ben. Holladay & Co.

The Oriflamme arrived from Portland this morning at [illegible]. She was unable to get to the wharf for other vessels lying in the way, and had to lay out in the stream, while she sent in boats for her passengers and freight.

Astoria is to have a new School house. The contract for the building of it has been awarded to Hank Gist.

From Honolulu.—The bark Cambridge, James Frost, master, arrived Thursday night from Honolulu, consigned to McCraken, Merrill & Co. She sailed from Honolulu Sept. 24th, and arrived off the Columbia river Oct. [illegible], had light easterly winds the entire voyage; on the [illegible] she was within sixty miles of the bar. The following is a list of her freight and consignees: McCraken, Merrill & Co, 1,551 kegs sugar, 65 bales pulu, [illegible] bags coffee and 131 sacks rice; Knapp, Burrell & Co, [illegible] coffee, Allen & Lewis, 1,289 kegs sugar; P. Wasserman, 2 cases books.

Oro Fino Theater.—The beautiful play of Fanchon was performed last evening in good style, and will be repeated again to-night for the last time this season. With Mrs. Carter as Fanchon, the Cricket, Mr. Bates as Father [illegible], and Barry as Didier, the piece could not well be other than attractive—and it was played last night as well as the most critical could wish. The naive manner of Mrs. Carter's Fanchon is captivating, and we advise all to go and see the last representation to-night.

Dancing [illegible].—Prof. Cardinell requests us to announce that his soiree is postponed till next Saturday evening. The Saturday afternoon class for children will [illegible] the week from to-day instead of this after-

Oregon City.—The October term of the Circuit Court will begin next Monday. There are twenty-four law and fifteen chancery cases on the docket.

Capt. D. P. Thompson and family will leave on Monday for Eastern Oregon.

Three children have died of bloody flux, and several others are sick, in Cascade precinct, of the same complaint.

A Bare Proposition.—It is stated that the person who preferred the charge against Mr. J. A. Fisher for violation of the revenue laws, offered, before lodging the information, to compromise for $200. If this be true, the man deserves punishment twenty times more than does Mr. Fisher, and we hope he will get it.

New Books.—The following new books have just been added to the Portland Library: Countess Gisela, by Mrs. A. L. Wister; Sidney Elliott (a novel), by Nauman; Women and Theaters, by Olive Logan; Sunnsine; The Seven Curses of London, by Greenwood; Hospital Sketches, by Alcott.

Ordered to the Poor House.—Joshua Bell has been ordered to the poor house, and will be taken out probably to-day. He remains in a very bad condition, at the city jail.

Unwearisomeness in Welldoing.—Mr. Elliot will preach on this subject to-morrow evening in the Unitarian Church, illustrating his theme by the Life of Oberlin.

From Victoria.—The steamer Geo. S. Wright, as we are informed by telegraph, sailed from Victoria for Portland, at half past ten o'clock yesterday morning.

Everybody is out shopping these days, and it is just the time to get the Fall and Winter Styles. It is almost impossible to pass the splendid store of KOHN & FISHEL, No. 91, Front street, without being drawn in by the attraction of those charming New Suits, and the enormous piles of elegant clothing and fancy goods of every description and quality. They have, unquestionably, the largest stock and best assortment of goods that can be found in the city of Portland. Messrs. Kohn & Fishel bring their goods direct from New York, and sell as cheap as the cheapest.

Use KANE'S IMPERIAL CONDENSED SOAP. It washes without rubbing. For sale by Allen & Lewis, Corbitt & McCleay, R. G. Sneath and all retailers.

Among the latest promotions in the French army was one of a captain of the guard who was elevated to the rank of commandant. On learning the news his little girl began to sing and dance and clap her hands. "What makes you so glad?" inquired her mother. "Why, if papa is commandant there will be music at his funeral."

Mrs. Chapin, the Wisconsin "ministeress," is said to be very modest and lady-like in the pulpit, and the reporter of a recent sermon says that in becoming a minister she has not ceased to be a "woman," and then goes on to describe her dress in the pulpit, which would do credit to a Saratoga belle.

FINANCE AND COMMERCE

WEEKLY REVIEW

PORTLAND Oct 22, 1869

New York Gold quotation Oct 21 130⅝@130¼. Legal tenders in San Francisco [illegible] at Portland [illegible]

While no unusual complaint about money matters [illegible] the stringency which has prevailed for some weeks still rules. Rates of interest are without change. We are exporting to San Francisco an average of coin and dust of about $40 000 per week. This amount, though [illegible] by far so large as in some former years is most sensibly felt because we are getting less amount of dust and bullion from the mines on our eastern border.

The telegraphic dispatches contain frequent hints of financial troubles at San Francisco. Yesterday morning we had a telegram to the effect that several heavy failures had occurred, two of them for sums not less than one to three millions. The newspaper commercial reports speak in discouraging terms of the state of the money market. The commercial correspondent of the [illegible] says, Oct 14 h: "The subject of finance just now absorbs more attention than trade, which continues to grow smaller by degrees and beautifully less. He would be a very bold man who should attempt to prove that our local finances are not in an unsatisfactory condition. It is generally admitted that the supply of money is not equal to the demand and it does not appear very clear to the best informed on such matters how the supply is to be increased. It were a waste of words to refer to what might have been done to prevent the present stringency. What is required is prompt action to prevent serious disaster from its effects. There is evidently something wrong in our present financial system or it were not possible for a State like California, so rich in resources—the source of the supply of half the gold in the world—to be in its present condition. It will be well for our public men, merchants and producing classes to endeavor to find the defect in our financial system so as to be able to devise an effective remedy. As the case stands at present, our State is a financial paradox. For with less than five hundred thousand inhabitants, it has exported upward of $1 000 000 000 in bullion within twenty years retaining so little for its own use that its inhabitants cannot export their wheat, wine or wool nor pay their local taxes without disturbing the whole machinery of business. * * * The Chamber of Commerce held a meeting during the week to appeal to the city authorities not to collect the taxes on outside lands in the present condition of the money market, as the collection of $1 000,000 would seriously interfere with business. There was a large meeting of other business men for the same object. The Custom house officers inform me that merchants experience great difficulty in procuring gold to pay the duties on imported goods, the money paid being chiefly on small consignments to jobbers, the larger importations going into bond. Such facts tend to show how severe is the present contingency. Stocks and real estate feel the effect of the stringency more severely than general business, the real estate agents and stock brokers not doing enough to pay office rent. The receipts of bullion continue light, with large shipments privately to New York per rail. During the week $62,183 was received from Oregon, chiefly in dust for coinage, and $104,819 from Victoria. The people of these sections complain severely of the drain of their gold to this city. The [illegible] brought $549,770 in silver from Mexico. The demand for money is extremely urgent. Loans are effected with difficulty at banks at 1½@2 per cent. On the street 3 per cent. is the current rate. The collections for semi monthly settlement yesterday were extremely difficult to meet."

The local produce market continues quite inactive. Receipts from the interior are inconsiderable, the steam ers carrying little or nothing. There are, however, large quantities of wheat and flour stored along the river, waiting a rise of water. Some of this will come forward at once as soon as navigation becomes easy and uninterrupted, but there is reason to believe that many of the farmers and merchants contemplate holding on for the desperate chance of a rise in prices. We can see no indication anywhere that there will be such an advance in foreign markets as to appreciate prices here to such a figure as will justify holding on. Those who embrace current opportunities to sell are likely to be better off in the end, than those who may wait and dream of a better market. P[illegible] are, generally, about as last quoted.

The Abbott Elwood, for Liverpool, has received about two-thirds of her cargo of 22,000 bushels of wheat. The balance will be on board probably within the month.

The Liverpool quotation for wheat is 10s 4d.

The New York market for wheat and flour is unchanged. Oregon Salmon are quoted at San Francisco at $5 75@$6, for half bbls and $10@11 for bbls.

We recently made a shipment in one lot of 455 pkgs cranberries, which are quoted in San Francisco at 60@65c per gallon.

Oregon extra flour is quoted at the Bay, 25c per bbl higher than city mills. Wheat at San Francisco Good milling, $1 60 per cental; outside of market, $1 00@$1 65. Oats are selling at about $1 30 per cental, for choice heavy.

The merchandise market, after a quiet trade during the past week, is again reviving and trade is moderately active.

Retail trade for the week has been better than for some time, many of the country people having availed themselves of the pleasant weather to come in for early winter supplies.
